

THE BIJA PROJECT

Camp 2019 (Winter, Spring, Summer)

Bija Camp balances outdoor play, exploration of the city, art, sensory and science activities with a focus on joyful, healthy living. We visit farmers markets, cook together, enjoy museums, Prospect Park and visits to our library. Campers get messy as they spend time outdoors in all weather and explore paint, mud and dough. Each week features visits from guests including artists, farmers and community activists. Our teaching team is a diverse mix of youth and seasoned educators bringing their passions to the Bija. This year we have simplified our scheduling options to make our curriculum an even richer experience. We ask that you enroll for a minimum of 2 weeks.

CAMP CENTER 900 Fulton Street,
Brooklyn, NY 11238

We are the The Bija Project, a socially minded organization promoting love, justice, and inclusivity through a radical approach to education and community building. Our diverse group of educators, farmers, artists, and neighbors work together to educate families and foster a love of people, community, the arts and the world around us.

DAYS ATTENDING/ COST PER WEEK	8:30AM – 2:30PM	8:30AM – 5PM	7AM DROP OFF	7PM PICK UP
M – F	$565	$645	Add $80	Add $100

Available for Ages 2 - 5 years

Weekly sessions from February 18 - 22
April 22 - 26
July 15 – August 30 (7 weeks)

Flexible registration options including:
Drop off at 7am or 8:30am
Pickup at 2:30pm, 5pm or 7pm

Sign up at bijaproject.com or email
info@bijaproject.com